Monitoring the implementation of SDGs related to corruption, a new tool

Wednesday , 8th November 2017, 13.30 – 15.00
Conference Room M6

Target 16.5 of 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development calls on States to "Substantially reduce corruption and bribery in all their forms". This represents a major milestone in the fight against corruption, as it marks the commitment by national governments not just to criminalize, prevent or investigate this offence, but also shows how corruption remains a key spoiler to the sustainability of efforts under the SDGs.

As part of the global indicator framework adopted by the UN General Assembly in July 2017, two indicators on the prevalence of bribery - as experienced respectively by the population and the business sector - have been selected to measure progress towards achieving the target.

In view of supporting States in their efforts to produce data for SDG indicators and responding to the need to improve the quality of existing corruption metrics, UNODC and UNDP - with the support of the Mexico-based UNODC-INEGI Center of Excellence for Statistical Information on Crime, Victimization and Justice - have teamed up to support the development of a Manual on the measurement of corruption through population-based and business-based sample surveys. Besides presenting the Manual, this event will offer the opportunity to present and discuss national experiences and challenges on the measurement of corruption through statistical tools.

Speakers:

Ms. Angela Me, Chief, Research and Trend Analysis Branch, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC)

Mr. Anga Timilsina, Programme Manager, Global Anti-corruption Initiative UNDP

Ms. Martina Koger, Head of Department on Prevention, Education and International Cooperation, Federal Bureau of Anti-Corruption Austria

UNODC
United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime

For additional information, please contact:

Enrico Bisogno
Chief, Data Development and Dissemination Unit
UNODC
DPA/RAB/DDDU
Email: enrico.bisogno@unodc.org

or

Jennifer Sarvary Bradford
Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Officer
UNODC
DTA/CEB/CSS
Email: jennifer.sarvary-bradford@unodc.org